His clothing would stick to him and his hair came off and was dry and lifeless. The trouble lasted thirteen years.

"He began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and in two weeks there was hardly a pimple on my boy, and now he is healed." (Signed) Mrs. Martha L. Thomas, R. F. D. 3, Chester, Vt., Oct. 4, 1916.

ZIMMERMANN AS PLOT INCITER

Proof in Letter Seized Here, Signed by German Secretary

EVIDENCE GIVEN TO GRAND JURY

Teuton and Hindu Arrested in Raid Tell More of Indian Conspiracy

New York, March 9.—Alfred Zimmermann, German foreign minister, was the active director of the plotting of the East Indian revolutionists on American soil, according to evidence which John C. Knox, assistant United States attorney, will produce before a federal grand jury here.

The trail of the conspiracy against the British rule in India leads direct to Wilhelmstrasse. The money alleged to have been paid to Dr. Chandra Chakrabarty and Dr. Ernest Sekunna, was furnished to them on orders from Secretary Zimmermann, according to evidence in the hands of the federal authorities. On Dr. Chakrabarty's trip to Berlin in the summer of 1915 the Hindu obtained official approval of the conspiracy and the promise of financial aid from Secretary Zimmermann, according to the evidence. It is not believed that the Hindu had any interview with Herr Zimmermann himself, but it is said he presented his plans for fomenting an insurrection in India to those who had authority to deal for the foreign secretary.

When he returned to the United States Dr. Chakrabarty, it is alleged, bore an order to a German agent in this country for the immediate payment of funds for the purpose of putting the conspiracy on foot. At the same time, it is alleged, Herr Zimmermann sent a code message to Wolf Von Igell, ambassadorial attaché, authorizing the payment of German secret service funds to Dr. Chakrabarty. The payment of approximately $800,000 was accomplished by Von Igell through an intermediary, it is charged.

The grand jury will be put in the possession of evidence that Sekunna turned over to Chakrabarty a great deal of money which he received from agents of Von Igell. The money was turned over in lots of $3,000 and $4,000. The authorities believe that Chakrabarty invested most of this money in his own name. He is known to hold stocks in the amount of $15,000, besides having $15,000 in savings banks and holding title to houses in West 120th street and West Seventy-seventh street. A will was found in the West 120th street house leaving his estate to a brother in India.

Under specific instructions from the attorney general's office in Washington, Assistant United States Attorney Knox refused to discuss the case. It could not be learned whether the proof of Herr Zimmermann's part in the proposed revolution was obtained among the papers seized last Monday night, when Captain Tunney and Sergeant Barnitz of the bomb squad raided the home of the two physicians at 364 West 120th street. A second possibility was that the document was seized in the raid last year on Wolf Von Igell's office at 60 Wall street.

Both Dr. Chakrabarty and Dr. Sekunna were questioned again yesterday by agents of the department of justice and further details of the conspiracy were obtained. Dr. Sekunna refused to talk to newspaper men, however, and cautioned his Hindu friend against saying anything. The two men were questioned separately. When the German came into the room where Dr. Chakrabarty was sitting, the Hindu sprang to his feet and gave him a military salute.

GERMANS NO LONGER HOLD AMERICANS IN BELGIUM

Some Officials Were Detained From Lack of Oords, Says Brand Whitlock—Enavey's Status Still Uncertain.

Washington, March 9.—Americans in Belgium are no longer detained in any sense by the German military authorities, according to a final report received at the state department yesterday from Minister Brand Whitlock at Brussels.

The dispatch stated that some subordinate officials in Belgium had prevented Americans from leaving immediately after the severance in relations, for lack of orders whether to hold them or not. The difficulty has now all been straightened out, Mr. Whitlock reported, and Americans are free to come and go. Apart from the forty Belgian relief workers few other Americans are in Belgium. Mr. Whitlock's status still remains indefinite. Germany, after the break, refused to recognize his diplomatic position as minister, but authorized him with other Americans to remain in charge of the Belgian relief work. As practically all of Belgium is in the military possession of Germany and her capital has been moved to Havre, France, officials here see only two alternatives, to admit he is no longer clothed with diplomatic authority, or to send him to Havre as the fully accredited minister to Belgium.

Attacked by Negro.

Cambridge, Mass., March 9.—Miss Nora Mahoney, 24 years old, was attacked and slightly injured by an unidentified negro yesterday in a store where she is employed as a clerk. The negro asked for a loaf of bread and when Miss Mahoney, who was alone, told him there was none in stock, he jumped across the counter, grabbed her by the throat and struck her on the head with a bottle. She struggled with the negro and both crashed through a plate glass window into the street. The woman's cries aroused the neighborhood, but the assailant escaped before they reached the store. Miss Mahoney was cut on the face and head.

AN UNDIGESTED DINNER

Worse than a badly cooked dinner is a dinner that you can't digest. Do you know what it is to turn away from the best food, ill-humored and without appetite, though you know that it is dinner time and that you need food to sustain you? This is nature's way of telling you that your digestion is out of order. Your stomach is not in a fit state to absorb food if you eat it, or your blood able to carry the necessary nourishment to your nerves, brain and muscles. First of all, put off eating until you are hungry. If you eat when you are not hungry you can't digest the food.

To put your blood in the right state to derive good from your food, take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Without any purgative or weakening effect they purify your blood and enrich it, so that you not only have an excellent appetite for food, but are able to digest it comfortably and get benefit from it.

So many dyspeptics have been helped by this simple treatment that every sufferer from stomach trouble should try it. A diet book, "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or a box will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of fifty cents.

Topics of the Home and Household.

An important addition to any kitchen is a rest corner.

If linoleum is varnished twice a year it will last for years.

A braided rug is one of the most useful and easily made of home-made rugs. It stays down so well it is a source of very little trouble in that direction and may really be made quite artistic if a little care is taken in the choice of colors.

Mainly About Women.

More than one-fourth of all the wage workers in New York City are women. Nearly 4,000 women in New York City earn a livelihood as barbers, hairdressers or manicurists.

More than 200 recruits have joined the American Woman's League for Self-Defense during the past month. Mrs. F. W. Stout, whose farm is near the town of Angus, Wis., possesses the largest and finest herd of dairy cows owned by any woman in the United States.

A building and loan company in Cleveland is the first institution of its kind in this country to establish a woman's auxiliary board of directors. Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis wife of the Illinois senator, is mentioned as a possible candidate for president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Buy Groceries in Bulk.

Clean food packed in neat and sanitary packages is the ideal food. The first essential to food is that it be wholesome and that means that it must be made from sound material and protected from contamination until it is used. The package goods which stock the modern grocer's shelves answer the demand for clean food. But the package is expensive. Paper and cardboard contribute materially to the cost of the crackers they protect, writes Dr. H. E. Barnard, state food commissioner of Indiana, from whose article the Irish World quotes.

There is a real demand for a return to the handling of bulk goods. Bulk oatmeal, rice, dried fruits, sugar and bakery products are delivered to the grocery store in boxes and barrels. If they are taken from the original package by a cleanly clerk and placed in the bin of the modern sanitary counter or showcase, they are still clean, and if the clerk who takes your order uses a sanitary scoop instead of his hands in sacking them, they will not become dirty and they will reach your house just as good food as if they had been packed at the factory.

Buy bulk goods and save the cost of the package whenever you can get quality and cleanliness, but do not carp at the food inspector whose insistence upon well-protected food has been so largely responsible for package goods. Remember his objection to bulk goods has been based upon the careless way in which they were handled.

Chinese Ornaments.

The demand for Chinese ornaments for gowns grows apace. This fashion was tentatively started last spring. At the beginning of the new year it has reached such proportions that the Chinese shops are offering the most delectable things in colors and shape, and the dressmakers are putting them on afternoon and evening frocks. No fabric is so rough or so fine for them. In fact, it seems to be part of the spirit of oriental designing to combine strange contrasts of roughly woven fabrics with designs of intricate and delicate workmanship, or at other times to use the heaviest, most ponderous of ornaments on the finest of silks or embroidery.

Green is the favorite color. And this is probably because of the vogue for jade and the high favor with which that stone is always regarded in the land of Confucius. Or perhaps it is because of the deep admiration all Chinese have for this color of spring and the deep sea that has made green and jade so popular a color among them.

When worn on frocks these green ornaments are usually placed at the waist line and sometimes at the hips, and it really takes a little daring for a designer boldly to decorate or draw attention to the hips in this way. Strangely enough, for the last few generations we have never thought of placing ornaments thus, and now that we are first seeing it, it strikes us as amazingly daring.—New York Sun.

RHEUMATISM PAIN

The exact cause of rheumatism is unknown, though it is generally believed to be due to an excess of uric acid in the blood. It may be also said with equal truth that no remedy has been found which is a specific in all cases. In fact the literature of rheumatism shows that there are but few drugs which have not been given a trial. In the hands of one observer we find that a certain drug has been used with the utmost satisfaction; others have found it to be a great disappointment. All physicians however agree that every method of treatment is aided by the administration of some remedy to relieve the pain and quiet the nervous system and Dr. W. B. Schultze's tablets should be given reference over all other remedies for the relief of the pain in all forms of rheumatism. These tablets can be so quickly in six minutes. They are also unsurpassed for headaches, neuralgia and all pains. Ask for A-K Tablets.

GERMAN GOLD OFFERED VILLA

German Agents Urged Proposition That He Raid the United States

PLAYING VILLA AGAINST CARRANZA

In Effort to Get Them to Attack This Country

Laredo, Tex., March 9.—Germany is playing Villa against Carranza. Great sums of German money are pouring into the bandit's hands, inciting him to activity against the United States and against Carranza, while at the same time German agents work through officials of the Carranza government seeking to align that side against the United States. Just back from a trip into the interior of Mexico, Webb Miller, a correspondent, states these facts on the highest authority.

Agents of the German government in Mexico approached Francisco Villa in his headquarters at Bustillo's ranch about Feb. 12 with a proposition to renew his raids on the border in case of a declaration of war between the United States and Germany. Two German agents reached the bandit leader. The conference extended over two days.

At first Villa demurred against any attack on the border in force under any circumstances. At length an agreement was reached that in case of war Villa would send small bands, as unattached bandits, to operate at widely separated points along the international line and to make sporadic forays to harass American troops.

Under the terms of agreement the German agents promised to pay Villa 500,000 pesos ($250,000 in gold at once to seal the compact. He refused to enter into the plot until the first payment was handed over. They agreed to pay a large amount each month thereafter in case of war to enable Villa to pay his men, obtain ammunition and build up his shattered forces for a campaign. After orders from Foreign Secretary Zimmermann reached Mexico City for an attempt to arrange an alliance with Mexico and Japan the Villa scheme was one of the first moves. One secret agent was sent north from the capital to San Luis Potosi, where he met another. From Parral they traveled by horseback to Bustillo's ranch, about forty miles west of Chihuahua City. At this point Villa was making his headquarters at that time.

The Villa plan was to be used chiefly in the event of failure to induce Carranza to enter an intrigue against the United States and as a possible means of bringing pressure to bear on Carranza. It was hoped to involve the de facto government and the United States in new, serious complications, making the retention of a large part of the army along the border necessary.

Friction between Carranza and the United States would tend to weaken the de facto power, it was pointed out to Villa by the German agents.

Already the German cabal in the Mexican capital had set active underground influences to work upon the first chief and his advisers to induce them to consent in an alliance. The famous note sent by Carranza to the neutral powers, asking them to unite in refusing to furnish supplies to belligerent countries, was engineered by the German propagandists. It was the original intention to lead the first chief to order the oil fields of Tampico to be closed to export. This was later modified to the form in which it was sent because most of the fields are owned by English companies and a large amount of the oil is used by the English fleets, and such action therefore, would have brought complications between England and Mexico.

Among officials in Mexico City stories are afloat that two government officials in the first chief's immediate circle of influential men were co-operating directly with German agents. One of the newspapers in the capital is said to be under subsidy to the Germans to print news from the German angle. In other ways German money and influence are at work to sway the actions of the de facto government. Such efforts are rendered comparatively easy by the cross currents of jealousy and ambition of the different military and political leaders.

Stringent military censorship at all the cable and telegraph offices in Mexico prevents the sending of any dispatch not approved by the government.

MONROE DOCTRINE TOO NARROW.

Newspapers of France Speak Warmly of President Wilson's High Idealism.

Paris, March 9.—Newspapers throughout France, in editorials speak in the warmest terms of the idealism of President Wilson's inaugural address. The Temps is a fair example of the utterances of the other newspapers:

"President Wilson's message to his country will mark a decisive hour in the history of the United States. America places herself on the side of right against the brutal imperialism of Germany. All uncertainties have passed. A common ideal binds the United States to the defenders of the liberty of the peoples. The Monroe doctrine has become too narrow for a nation which feels itself in union with all humanity and refuses to confine itself any longer to a neutrality which ignores that which takes place beyond its frontier.

"The tragic events of the 30 months of vital turmoil through which we have just passed have made us citizens of the world," says President Wilson. "There
